

HISTORY (cont'd)

The History Of National Service in the U.S.

The Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) was created in 1933 as part of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal. The program ended in 1942, but its model lives on today in programs like the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps. We'll discuss the history of national service, learn about the state of service in America today, and hear stories of national service from an AmeriCorps alumnus.

Engineers Without Borders

Thinking locally, acting globally, the Denver Chapter of Engineers Without Borders "reaches out from the Rockies" to provide clean water and sanitation to villages in Ecuador, Togo, and Madagascar. Learn a little about the geography and cultures in these remote places and how EWB Denver continues to make a difference with some pretty simple but innovative engineering ideas. Their efforts include teaching the villagers how to fix and maintain the water and sanitation systems that are built, making the projects more sustainable.

Masterpieces of the Imaginative Mind: A Trip Fantastic

Generations of readers have been drawn to stories of the fantastic not only for what they can help us learn about ourselves as individuals and collectively, but also for the snapshot of our social values. We'll hear Professor Eric Rabkin, Professor of Language and Literature at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, MI, lecture to us via DVD about the genre, the selection, and the author, and then we'll engage in our group discussion! Class meets on the third Friday of each month.
